

This is what Joel Davey had to say about the week 1st-4th June 2010

"Having completed this intensive course of meetings with some of the leading Agents & Casting Directors in London, I have one message to anybody serious about pursuing an Acting career in this city: it may be the best investment you make towards entering the business at the very highest level."

"Within one week of arriving back in London, I have not only secured representation with a terrific Agent but I now retain an extensive roster of contacts who actively cast international Theatre, Film & Television productions.

Be prepared to be impressed with the calibre of industry professionals assembled by AI Corporate; be prepared to be inspired by the depth and diversity of knowledge at your fingertips. But above all, be prepared."

London Networking Week

New Intensive Audition Program

"personal workshop time with top professionals"

We operate an intensive week program with top UK agents & casting directors who are currently looking for "International actors" & UK actors.

Open to all nationalities. Each program changes due to the requests of the industry professionals.

Throughout 2010 we have had actors participating in our Networking Weeks from Australia, Los Angeles, Paris, Portugal, New York & UK.

A maximum of 10 in a group ensures personal audition & workshop time with top professionals.

These agents & casting directors do not give general interviews but have developed this program with us to find experienced international actors. The week will be intensive with monologue auditions, sides for projects they are currently casting, pieces to camera enabling you to showcase your talent & hopefully gain representation.

AI corporate is proud to continue its visits to London affording a unique opportunity for all professional actors & performing artists.

For more info see our website.

New York Networking Week

Back By Popular Demand!

"a brand new week in the big apple"

Right in the heart of Broadway itself, selected actors will network, workshop and audition for top New York agents, managers and casting directors.

The week will be similar to the existing London tour with clients researching our industry professionals, preparing monologues, duologues and working from sides both individually & collectively in order to showcase themselves in a unique opportunity to impress the consultants who do not normally grant individual interviews.

The week will be intense!

Don't miss this once in a lifetime chance to advance your career in the world's most exciting city with consultants who are LOOKING FOR INTERNATIONAL TALENT, & who represent and cast actors in the greatest entertainment strip in the world.
