EPDVD 13. 2 x DVD. Running time 110 minutes.

The YELLOW BITTERN, a new feature documentary is a revealing and surprising portrait of the man Bob Dylan called - "the best ballad singer I'd ever heard in my whole life. Still is, probably".

This intimate, confessional yet highly cinematic film charts the remarkable rise to fame of the Clancy Brothers and Tommy Makem from their small-town beginnings in county Tipperary in Ireland to the folk hey-0day of Greenwich Village in the sixties where they absorbed black musical influences and out-sold the Beatles. But this darkly revealing portrait also goes behind the mask of the performer and delves into the psyche of Liam Clancy and his troubled personal life.
